California Ranch News

While Kings county is not a large truck-growing district, some Lemoore farmers have done well in gardening for outside markets.

Cement makes the best floor for a poultry house. When properly built it is economical, easy to clean, rat proof, durable, and free from dampness.

Cotton and corn are being harvested near El Nide, Merced county, everybody taking advantage of the ideal weather. Pickers are not numerous for the cotton at present wages.

While there are no big commercial chicken ranches in the Westmoreland district, there are some large farm flocks on places where chickens have served to maintain the equilibrium sometimes upset by more spectacular crops. The farm flocks, given excellent care, have returned constant profits.

Experiments over the past three years by the H. J. Heinz and company pickle plant at Isleton, have led to a decision to enlarge the present plant to at least double its present capacity. The expected increased output will place the pickle industry here in the ranks of the major crops for which the delta region is famed.

Frank Penn, one of the leading poultrymen of the Porterville district, has received word that his pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks at the Pomona egg production exhibition took first prize for egg production in the heavy breed class. Penn specializes in Barred Rocks, and has some of the finest birds on the coast.

The apple harvest in the Yucaipa valley is one of the best ever grown, and notwithstanding the fact that a large crop of apples is reported from all parts of the country the prices have been fairly satisfactory. The Delicious harvest is over, and now the Wine saps, Blacks, Pearmains and other late varieties are being gathered.

Pasadena has determined to make a thorough test of the project of making fertilizer from sewage on its municipal farm east of Alhambra. Equipment costing several thousand dollars for the drying of the sludge has arrived at the farm sewage treatment plant and is being put up. It is expected to be in operation early in November.

Approximately 2,000 tons of fruit were shipped through Atascadero this year, establishing Atascadero with its new packing plant, dehydrating plant and cold-storage plant, as a shipping center for the surrounding vicinity. More than 50 per cent of the tonnage shipped was comprised of pears. Peaches, apricots, plums and prunes made up the remaining tonnage.

Every day between two and three carloads of prunes are being shipped from Chico, according to a statement made by E. T. Reynolds of the packing company. Although the price obtained is not so high as in some former years, he stated, the Chico product is finding a ready market, due to its excellent quality. The crop is lighter than in previous years but the quality is finer.

Leading apple growers of Paradise, northeast of Oroville, are beginning to see the need of a factory which would make by-products of the cull apples, according to Earl Mills, county horticultural commissioner. Growers have requested that action be taken for the establishment of such a factory. During the past the cull grades have either been thrown aside or used for stock feed.

Sixteen hundred tons of almonds were produced in the Arbuckle district in Sonoma county, this year. The association handled 1,200 tons of this amount and the independents 400 tons. Practically all of the independent crop has been shipped, while the Arbuckle-College City Almond Growers' Association has shipped but thirty cars of nuts ranging from twenty-five to thirty tons each.

The Westmoreland yield of fall-grown cucumbers is excellent this season, and the quantity that may be produced seems to depend only on the demand and the price. This year both seem to be satisfactory to the growers. Fall-grown asparagus has proved quite successful, both from a standpoint of yield and of prices. There are few districts where asparagus can be cut profitably in the fall. Cutting asparagus in the fall here apparently does not injure the spring crop in the least. The fall cuttings continue up until Thanksgiving.

A BUSY WEEK AT NIGH SCHOOL

Tuesday morning the High School was entertained at the Grammar School auditorium by Mr. Nichol, a whistler. He told how to produce a variety of whistling effects and whistled some classical songs, such as: At the End of a Perfect Day, and Let the Rest of the World Go By. He also related incidents of the life of Carry Jacobs Bonds of whom he is a protege.

After the performance by Mr. Nichol, Mrs. W. I. Merrill gave a talk on the food sale the P. T. A. were going to have Saturday in the Gilson Meat Market.—Martha Carlson, Reporter.

COMMUNITY CHEST

The usual Monday afternoon assembly was called to order by Mr. Cramer. He and Mr. Cutting gave talks on the benefits of the Community Chest. Thousands of poor and unfortunate people have been assisted during the year.

The students were urged to make contributions to the Chest, and the proceeds from the whistling program were applied to the fund, which amounted finally to $21.39. Added to this the faculty subscribed over $100.00—Evernia Le Fevre, Reporter.

Campbell high school's two light weight basketball teams fought their way to the Division B championship of the P. A. L. at Redwood City.

In the 110 pound game, Campbell won from Jefferson high by the score of 21 to 7. This game was harder fought than the score indicates ,as the tally at half time was 5 to 5. Cliff Berger was high point man of the game with 12 points.

Campbell won the 120 pound contest, 20 to 16 from South City. The score at half time in this affair was 13 to 9 in favor of South City but by steady playing in the second half the Orchard City boys were able to pull the game out of the fire. Clyde Sheurmann was high point man with 6 tallies.

Friday evening in the Campbell high school gym, the Orchard City teams will play for the championship of the P. A. L. The 110's meet the San Mateo quintet, while the 120's tackle the Redwood City five. Luther Hughes will referee.

CAMPFIRE SPARKS

The High School Campfire Girls with the assistance of Mr. Whitney are busy with hammers and saws fixing up their club room in the annex. Kittie Johnson, assistant guardian of the Cherokee Group, is supervising the tinting of the walls.

Old furniture will be covered with cretonne—making the room cozy and comfortable. Curtains and hooked rugs are to be made by the girls, using their symbols for designs.

A Wastahi reunion is to be held in San Jose, Friday, Nov. 20. Stunts by each group will be given, and a peppy and wonderful time is expected, according to Miriam Blaine.

BOOKKEEPING DEP'T.

Twenty-nine enthusiatic students are enrolled in our Bookkeeping Class. The secrets of the art was learned through the Twentieth Century method which teaches how to do by doing. We are also to receive a complete course in filing by the Library Bureau System. The filing cabinet assembled by Mr. Whitney's class is in constant use and makes possible intensive use of a small room by a large class. The Bookkeeping Department operates a branch bank of the Campbell Mercantile Bank. Our balance at present is $718.88; the combined funds of fourteen school organizations.

Ten girls are making rapid progress in Shorthand under the guidance of Mrs. Dart.

Fifty-two pupils have registered in the Typing Department, and of these many give promise of being prize winners.

"The Commercial Department," says John Clouser, "is one of the most important of the High School, and an asset not only to the school but to the community."

DUNCAN--MURPHY WEDDING

One of the prettiest weddings ever celebrated in Campbell was held in the Congregational Church Saturday evening, Nov. 13, when Frances A. Duncan and Wiliam L. Murphy were united in marriage.

A large assemblage of relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. The church was profusely decorated with mountain heather, smilax and pale pink chrysanthemums.

The beautiful bride, dressed in white georgette over pale pink silk, wore a veil of tulle arranged with a Juliet cap of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

The bridal party entered while Lohengren's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Gilmore Duncan on the violin accompanied by Miss Louise Mahan at the piano. Sylvia Duncan, niece of the bride, made a charming flower girl, appearing in ecru net over apricot silk.

Mrs. Ira McConnell, sister of the bride, in pale green georgette over pink acted as Matron of honor, and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. Bridesmaids, Miss Marion Austin, in rose, and Miss Mary O'Leary in yellow taffeta also carried boquets of mixed flowers.

Harold Shelly acted as best man for the groom's party. The bride was given in marriage by her father. "I love you truly" was played softly while Reverend Wm. Eckles read the service using the ring ceremony. It was followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional.

A reception in the tastefully decorated parlors of the church followed the ceremony. A real English wedding cake, made and presented by Mrs. H. G. Dent of San Jose was served with punch.

The honeymoon will be a motor trip to the southern part of the state. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will reside at their orchard home in the foothills of Union District.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Duncan, for many years residents of Campbell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Murphy of Union District for twenty-five years connected with the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Boy Training Kiwanis Topic

"Abie" Gilson turned his trick with the gavel Wednesday at Kiwanis luncheon. Guy Farley gave a short report of the secretary division sessions at the convention. Chauncy Whitman told of the Trustees' sessions and Walt Merrill of the general meeting.

Frank Cutting made a short report of the community chest campaign and felt quite confident of its final success so far as Campbell was concerned.

Father Kennedy of Redwood City spoke most interestingly on the character building of the young boys of the community as a worthy goal of Kiwanis as the youth is most easily trained in its early years. Father Kennedy has for years been a worker with boys in various ways and spoke from his experience.

The announcement that our good friend Wendell Thomas had been elected Governor of the California-Nevada district at the convention caused much rejoicing.

Campbell turned out quite a delegation to the Washington-Stanford game with the Kiwanis conclave which numbered about 2000.

Leon Miller will be chairman at next luncheon and Rev. Will E. Eckles will be the speaker for the occasion.

CHEST CAMPAIGN HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Campbell campaigners for the Community Chest have done themselves proud in the drive just closed. Yesterday Division E, of which Campbell is a goodly portion carried off the football for the best percentage of gain in the previous day. Campbell's goal was $2800 which as we go to press is almost reached.

Through an error of an informant, the names for the south west district was omitted. L. M. Beall and Chas. W. Shumway have done some strenuous work and have put their section over the top.

Major Frank Cutting who has engineered the campaign so successfully has expressed himself as most gratified with the results obtained by his band of faithful co-workers.

Antone Ferro and P. S. LaBarbara formed a special committee to call on their countrymen and met with marked success.

Manager Saso of the local theater gave a benefit show giving the chest fund a generous share of the receipts which was much appreciated by all concerned.

INFORMAL RECEPTION

A very informal "get-acquainted" social was enjoyed by the attendants of the Congregational church when the recently elected minister and his wife were down from Palo Alto.

Mr. Wm. Peterson who had supplied the pulpit for several Sundays was chosen temporary pastor, until a suitable resident minister can be found.

Mr. Peterson is proving very popular and the parlors of the church were filled with old and young who all entered heartily into the fun of the evening.

A program of volunteer numbers, with charades and other old fashioned entertainment served admirably to carry out the purpose of the gathering.

The ladies "handed out" punch and wafers as the procession filed by in march step.

Big Game

Saturday night, Nov. 20, the Campbell Alumni Quintet will play the Watsonville Y. M. C. A. in the High gym. This promises to be a fast and cleverly played game.

As a preliminary, the Campbell Unlimited will play some San Jose team.

Last Saturday evening the Campbell Alumni travelled to San Francisco and defeated the Matson Navigators, who have one of the fastest teams in the Bay region.

The Alumni will probably line up as follows: W. Eddlemon, and Kalas, forwards; C. Nelson, center; B. Reed and H. Shelley, guards; with M. Nelson, forward and R. Steindorf, guard as substitutes.

Attempts to Pass Check

Joe Carini, a youth who has been in difficulties with the federal and local officers on several occasions, was arrested Saturday by Officer Barnes for attempting to cash a check which he had stolen from a rural mail box.

The check was made out to the Farmers Union of San Jose and this youth tried to cash it at the local bank. As he was on probation from the Juvenile Court and has clearly demonstrated several times that he will not reform, and as he is a menace to the community he should be placed where he will be taken care of. His trial was set for today.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donohue at Groveland a daughter, Sunday, Nov. 14th.

AT THE COUNTRY WOMAN'S CLUB

In recognition of Education Week, the Country Woman's Club enjoyed a talk on "Guidance in Education," by Andrew P. Hill, of San Jose.

He began his discussion by explaining the system adopted by the Pueblo Indians whose play was directed along the lines of adult occupations. He also quoted from the "Story of Philosophy" by Will Durant, which he recommended as the most readable work of its kind. As far back as the time of Plato that educator recognized that all scholars have not equal capacity for grasping subjects and that some are natural leaders.

Applied to modern education, Schools, where pupils are given gue in the San Jose Junior High he explained the methods in voan opportunity to try out lines of vocational, commercial and agricultural work, so that they come to high school with some idea of what they want to do. Often they continue vocational work to help them through college.

They are also given an opportunity to develop leadership in different lines and practice organization, where high school students in years past were a selected group, who were there from choice now, the compulsory school law brings all types into the class room, and a more varied system of education is essential.

The so-called "Mental Tests" or "Aptitude Tests," which are being used extensively throughout the schools are making it possible to group children in a way which makes it much easier to plan their studies for their best success.

Miss May Barker, chairman of Education for the County Federation of Women's Clubs was also present and added a few words regarding the co-operation of the Federated Clubs with the Parent-Teacher Associations and the American Legion in the advancement of Education.

Mrs. W. I. Merrill, president of the high school P. T. A. had arranged for two musical numbers to be given by high school students, but a severe cold prevented the duet number from performing, but the ladies highly appreciated the piano numbers by Miss Miriam Blaine, "Hungary" by Koeling and "Shadow Dance" by Macdowell.

Announcement was made that Mr. A. Saso, manager of the Orchard City Theater will give the club a percentage on books of theater tickets sold by its members.

SAY IT WITH PRUNES

The Campbell business houses have received their quota of the boxes of dried prunes prepared for shipment. These prunes are packed in California redwood boxes, attractively labeled ready for addressing.

There are five pounds in a box and at the very reasonable price of sixty cents should find a ready sale.

It is the desire of those sponsoring the movement that the boxes be generally sent out of the state as the object of the plan is for advertising Santa Clara Valley and one of its chief products in other sections of the country.

They make fine Christmas gifts and help solve the problem of "what to give."

A leaflet describing Santa Clara County and containing a number of recipes for cooking and serving prunes is enclosed in each box.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shelley have moved to Ben Lomond, where the cement foundation and basement are being laid for their new home which will be erected in the spring. A. W. Johnson and crew have been doing the work.

TREES AND HUMAN LIFE

No matter where you live or what your occupation, your welfare is vitally affected by the forests. The American Reforestation Association is engaged in a campaign to acquaint people with their "greatest economic asset"—trees.

In a recent address on the subject, George A. Barnes, president of the association, made some statements which we hesitate to print: not because we doubt their accuracy, but because they are so astounding startling that we hestitate to place ourselves in the light of exaggeration. But listen. Mr. Barnes asserts:

That forests must be preserved or the national structure will decay.

That the forests are as essential to national protection as the army and navy.

That not one industry can be conducted without the help of trees.

That people generally make the mistake of computing the value of trees in mere board-feet, which is erroneous, as that constitutes but two-tenths of their economic value.

That trees are inevitably involved in every problem of timber shortage, water supply, flood control, soil destruction, farm failures, and industrial and commercial stagnation.

That the absence of forests has much to do with tornado, cyclone and changing climate.

That Arkansas boasts of its saw mills, but fails to note the increasing number of tornadoes.

That Nebraska farmers saved millions of dollars to crops by increased rainfall due to the planting of trees.

That human life would cease to exist if it were not for the trees.

That there is no law to protect from slaughter any tree that falls within the whim of man to kill and cut down, hence there is not adequate protection for the life of the natural growths that make human life possible as we know it.

If one-half or one-tenth of what Mr. Barnes asserts is true, it is time that the people of the North American continent, or of the world for that matter arise in defense of their forests,—a defense from indifference no less than from fire and needless destruction.

"YOU COME, TOO"

It is enough that a man take his own life, without asking another to join him. But in Los Angeles a suicide left a note to his wife saying, "Come, too." If he could have come too after his rash act he would have been sorry he extended the invitation.

ALWAYS AT WORK TO RELIEVE DISTRESS

Since 1905 the American Red Cross has given relief to 854 disasters in the United States alone. A year seldom passes without a major calamity due to tornado, earthquake, fire or flood. The Red Cross in each case has remained on the job until relief was completed.

Last year the Midwest tornado which struck five states was the outstanding relief operation by the Red Cross. The Florida hurricane in September created a problem which exceeded in proportions any disaster since the San Francisco fire.

By joining the American Red Cross every American can do his part to make its services continuously effective. The Annual Roll Call from November 11 to 25, this year, is your opportunity.

More than 43,000 nurses are enrolled in the American Red Cross. They are ever ready for emergency duty. Every American can do his share for humanity by joining the American Red Cross during the Tenth Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 25.

KIWANIS MAKES NEW RECORD

Statements received at Kiwanis International Headquarters office here from the 1885 clubs in the United States and Canada show that activity accomplishments for 1926 will far exceed last year's number. The record for 1925 was approximately 20.000 individual activities.

Work with the under-privileged child, bond issues for state and national highways, better relations between the town and country populations, naturalization work, financing of tourist camps, playgrounds and educational institutions and get-out-the-vote undertakings during state and national elections, will for 1926 increase the total over the results of 1925.

The work of the future will be more specialized, Ralph A. Amerman, of Scranton, Penn., president of Kiwanis, believes. "The underprivileged child is no longer given only physical aid and then forgotten, but he is cared for now to fit himself educationally for manhood."

Vocational guidance is also making good headway, the offical says. Young men in the 1585 communities who show adaptation or interest in certain professions or business enterprises are now able to get advice from Kiwanians engaged in the desired undertakings.

Kiwanis International will celebrate its twelfth anniversary in January. The organization was founded in 1915 at Detroit, Michigan, and in January will observe one of its greatest years.

Watson, county surveyor of Plumas county, who have returned to Oroville with the crews which have been engaged in the survey work. The outstanding result of the work is that the celebrated Arch Rock, one of the scenic features along the Western Pacific Railroad, was declared in Butte county. Under the provisions of the Keddie map, heretofore used, Arch Rock was located in Plumas county.

HI P. T. A.

Did you ever think that your co-operation with the schools means the solution of your childrens troubles. If you are acquainted with the schools you naturally get acquainted with the teachers. If you are acquainted with the teachers—you and they can talk over the problems of Johnnie and Mary, learn the reasons for any friction and seek the solution of any difficulty without fear and trembling.

The Campbell High School P. T. A. is striving to gain your assistance in promoting this feeling of more public interest in our school. Where your child is—there you should be vitally interested and in no way can you show this better than coming out to the evening meetings and have a chance to enter into the discussions. Special pains are taken to make these affairs interesting—one pleasant feature being refreshments. Speaking of refreshments won't you pledge your support if you are a High School parent, to the Thanksgiving Food Sale. Jellies, cooked foods, chicken, nuts, dried fruit and candies will be received thankfully. A small donation from everyone is not a burden, and Parent Teacher Associations deserve their share of your support. You don't mind your weekly contribution to the movies or beauty parlors, for that is all in the course of human events just now—then give to an association that is working without a bit of pay for the welfare and good name of every child, in school and out.

All contributions to be sent to Gilson's Market Saturday morning, by 10:30 or 11 o'clock, Nov. 20th.

Coolidge Proclaims Thanksgiving Day

Persident Calvin Coolidge has proclaimed November 25 as Thanksgiving day—a day of praise to God for a year in which the United States has been "blessed among the nations of the earth." The proclamation reads:

As a nation and as individuals we have passed another 12 months in the favor of the Almighty. He has smiled upon our fields and they have brought forth plentifully; business has prospered; industries have flourished, and labor has been well employed. We are blessed among the nations of the earth,

Our moral and spiritual life has kept measure with our material prosperity. We are not unmindful of the gratitude we owe to God for His watchful care which has pointed out to us the ways of peace and happiness, we should not fail in our acknowledgment of His divine favor which has bestowed upon up so many blessings. Neither should we be forgetful of those among us who, through stress of circumstances, are less fortunately placed, but by deeds of charity make our acknowledgment more acceptable in His sight.

Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in their accustomed places of worship devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received, and seek His guidance that through good deeds and brotherly love they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hands and caused to be affixed the great seal of the United States.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

"Big Business" Keeps Old Men for Council

If you are forty-five or fifty or even sixty and haven't reached the top, don't despair. The average age of the General Electric directors is over sixty. C. A. Coffin, the venerable upbuilder of this unique enterprise, is eighty-two. The age of the American Telephone and Telegraph directors averages, curiously enough, exactly the same, a trifle over sixty. The range here is greater than in any of our other colossal industrial corporations. George F. Baker leads the directors, in point of age, with eighty-six years to his credit, while W. S. Gifford, president and director, is only forty-one. The United States steel directors average still older than those of these other two companies, sixty-three and one-half. Mr. Baker also heads this board, followed by Chairman E. H. Gary, who has just entered his eightieth year. The youngest member is the son of the oldest, George F. Baker, Jr., forty-eight. The members of the finance committee average more than sixty-five years. No member is as young as fifty.—B. C. Forbes, in Forbes Magazine.

Legend of Barbarossa

"Barbarossa" was a nickname given to Frederick I (1152-1190), emperor of Germany, owing to the color of his beard. Frederick Barbarossa was one of the three leaders of the Third crusade, the other two leaders being Richard I of England and Philip Augustus of France. Barbarossa was a prince of great valor and was endowed with strong character. He was drowned while bathing in a little stream in Cilicia, in Asia Minor, in 1190. According to a legend, it is said that Frederick Barbarossa never died, but that he is sleeping with six of his knights in Thuringia. At the appointed time he will come forth and lead Germany to the foremost place among the nations of the world.—Exchange.

The Defense

Philip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers, was criticizing in Washington a railroad's answer to the charge that it profiteered in bituminous coal.

"This answer," he said, "reminds me of a minister's daughter. She was a very lovely girl, and when the minister went unexpectedly into the parlor one night she jumped up from a young man's lap.

"After the young man had gone home the minister said to her:

"'My dear, what am I to think? You were sitting on Charlie Simpkin's lap, were you not?'

"'Yes, papa, but,' she answered, 'I had one toe on the ground.'"

Who Saw America First?

While "The Flaming Frontier" was showing recently at the Colony, in New York, two Indians were employed for advertising purposes outside the theater.

Accosting one of the red men, an inquisitive gray-haired woman asked:

"You are a real Indian, aren't you?"

"Yes, madam," was the courteous response.

"How do you like our city?"

"Fine, madam. How do you like our country?"—Motion Pictures Today.

VETERANS STILL NEED RED CROSS

Aid to Disabled Men Increases as Problems and Legislation Bring Complications.

20,000 MEN DIE EACH YEAR

Many Entitled to Benefits Still Uninformed of Just Claims to Compensation.

Eight years after the World War finds service to disabled veterans still a major responsibility of the American Red Cross.

This situation is due to the increasing problems involved and the complex character of veteran legislation. There is also an increase in numbers of "death cases" handled, as compared with claims for living veterans, though the work for the latter remains heavy. About 20,000 ex-service men are dying each year, a considerable percentage of these having service-connected disabilities.

In a majority of cases, Red Cross Chapters find their assistance is needed in helping dependents present their claims for death compensation, insurance payments, bonus, burial allowances, and other government benefits due them. An episode of the past year illustrates the difficulties frequently encountered by the Red Cross experts in rendering such assistance. A veteran dying from service-connected disease, was trying from his bedside to establish at that late time his claim for Government aid to his family, and the necessary proofs were in a physician's records across the continent from him. To obtain the needed affidavits before it was too late, a cross-continent airplane flight was necessary, then a Red Cross Chapter in Pennsylvania hurried the investigation, sending the papers back to the veteran and his Red Cross helpers in Oregon, by air-mail. It reached there in time.

Another discovery in Red Cross assistance to veterans and their families is that many dependents of these men unquestionably entitled to Government aid, have struggled along, ignorant of their rights.

Aproximately 2,686 Red Cross Chapters carry on Home Service work, in assistance to veterans and their families. The Chapetrs also conduct campaign among veterans for reinstatement and conversion of their term insurance. Among its other duties, the Red Cross assumed at the request of the Canadian Government the administration of a fund allotted to the care of Canadian disabled veterans living in the United States.

In the United States the Red Cross assisted an average of about 80,000 disabled veterans and their families every month in the past fiscal year. Indicating the size of this undertaking, National Headquarters of the Red Cross expended $1,641,178.18 on disabled veterans alone, and $509,461.72 on assistance to men on active duty with the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, while Red Cross local Chapters expended a total of $1,987,000. Red Cross assistance to service men overshadowed every other phase of its program, even its disaster relief, until the Florida hurricane.

Help for veterans covers many demands, from temporary aid until Government claims are adjusted or until the ex-soldier is properly hospitalized, to extending capital loans to rehabilitated veterans endeavoring to become self-supporting in business. Several such capital loans were to blind veterans.

Contact with veterans in hospitals is maintained by Red Cross personnel which doctors agree influences the veteran's welfare and improvement. The Veterans' Bureau was planned to carry on social work in its hospitals for mental cases, and in many cases the Government and the Red Cross are co-operating for the welfare of the men suffering war disabilities. The public is invited to assist this work by joining the Red Cross during the Annual Roll Coll, November 11 to 25.

Does Prohibition prohibit? Yes, it prohibits the people from doing anything elst but talk about it.

Indorsing the proposed clearing house for grape shippers, the San Joaquin valley regional advisory council of the California Development association met at Fresno a short time ago, to hear a series of reports on valley conditions and industries. The general tenor of the report was that business and agriculture here is in comparatively good shape and that further improvement is expected.

California farmers are cleaner and better dressed than those of any other part of the world, according to B. H. Crocheron, head of the extension service work in California. "It isn't because they are vain but because their economic level is higher," he explained.

C. J. Luckege of Gridley has completed the harvesting of his 450-acre rice crop. One of the largest yields of the season was secured by Luckege. In some instances seventy-five sacks to the acre were secured.

Purchase of a herd of 120 Jersey cattle at Coquelle, Oregon, was consummated by A. S. Goode of the Peacock and Goode stock farms near Bakersfield. It has been announced following the return of Goode from the north. The cattle will be brought to Kern county in a very short time.
